DR. GULLY

Dr. Carey Molin Gully, MD, FAAP Board Certified in Pediatrics

Dr. Gully was born in Six Mile, SC. She graduated from Daniel High School in 1995. Dr. Gully attended Clemson University and the University of Newcastle in Australia. After graduating Magna Cum Laude in three years from Clemson's Honors College with a degree in Food Science and Nutrition, she moved to Charleston, SC where she received her medical degree in 2003 from the Medical University of South Carolina. During medical school, she spent two months working in a pediatric ward at a small district hospital in Ghana, West Africa. Dr. Gully completed an internship in Combined Internal Medicine and Pediatrics at Greenville Hospital System. She graduated from the pediatric residency program in 2006 and moved to Seneca to practice with Dr. Parrino. In August of 2009, Dr. Gully purchased the practice from Dr. Parrino and named it Blue Ridge Pediatrics. Her special interests include asthma, autism, sports medicine, pediatric obesity prevention and the medical home initiative. Dr. Gully was an internationally competitive gymnast before becoming a diver on Clemson's Swimming and Diving team while in college. She is married to David Gully who is a custom home builder in the area. They have a daughter named Celia and a son named Beckett. She enjoys travel, running, scuba diving, paddle boarding and all water sports. You will find her in her favorite place while not at work...OUTSIDE.
